I have heard Mr. Inayat Khan's singing on several occasions, public & private & I have been very much delighted with them.
What has particularly pleased me is the manner of his voice accompanied with the greatest subtlety in its variations. I have also talked with him on several questions in the theory of music & derived more benefit in a few minutes than in hours' conversation with others.
